Day 2

To the cloud forest!

Your bilingual naturalist guide will pick you up after breakfast. Start your 2-hour journey going east on the Interamerican Highway, passing by Cartago, the colonial capital of Costa Rica, then climbing into the mountains to the south of San José. This region is home to a plethora of flora and fauna, but it is most famous for its old growth oak forests, habitat for the Resplendent Quetzal.

Stay at El Toucanet Lodge, within walking distance of the village of Copey de Dota with its charming wooden church.

Services included

Breakfast at Hotel Don Carlos
Bilingual naturalist guide/driver and expenses
Lodging in standard room at El Toucanet

Day 3

In search of the Resplendent Quetzal

Wake up early to go in search of the Resplendent Quetzal, the sacred bird of the Maya, with its iridescent green feathers, bright red breast, and long, graceful tail. It only lives in old growth forests at high altitudes. The quetzal cannot live in captivity, and the sight of it is made even more magical by the morning mist.

Come back to the lodge for a delicious breakfast. Spend the rest of the day hiking in the old oak forests or visiting an organic coffee farm.

Services included

Bilingual naturalist guide/driver and expenses

Lodging in standard room at El Toucanet including breakfast and quetzal tour

Day 4

Indigenous tradition at the T erraba reserve!

Your guide will take you about 3 hours south on the Interamerican highway to the T erraba indigenous lands, where a local guide will tell you about the history and traditions of the T erraba culture. Learn how they grow and process chocolate! Stay in traditional-style thatched roof cabins at El Descanso Rural Inn.

Your private guide/driver: an incredible value

Kids love them: Kids love our bilingual naturalist guide/drivers because of their friendly, fun-loving attitude, and parents love them because of their kindness and their ability to teach about all things Costa Rica!

Peace of mind: Your family will have a guide all to yourselves for as many days as you want during your tour, so you can avoid the hassles that come with traveling with large groups of strangers. Your guide knows the ins and outs of each destination, so you'll have the peace of mind of knowing that your family is safe and well-cared for.

Hassle-free transportation: Getting around can be tricky in Costa Rica, but it becomes fun and hassle-free with your private guide/driver. You can stop where you want, whenever you want, giving you more freedom to respond to needs and for off-the-beaten-path exploration.

Flexibility: If you and your spouse want to walk along the beach and the kids are not interested, your guide can take them back to the hotel and keep them safe and entertained.

Personal connection: Best of all, your guide is your personal connection not only to nature, but to the culture of the fascinating destination you are visiting. Our professional guides make our trips unforgettable!
